“ XIFIN’s XiConnect Boot Camp provided our team with three imperatives, which were critical to a revenue department that has just experienced a key change in leadership. First, the opportunity to learn the fundamental hierarchies and internal protocols that are driving the background of our revenue cycle. Second, a thorough guide to managing our A/R in the most holistic and yet efficient manner possible via the Billing Management Checklist and the accompanying and recommended BI reporting tools. Finally, a series of process recommendations that were tailored to our unique A/R challenges, culminating in a roadmap for our team that I believe our team absolutely can accomplish, and once we do, I’m certain we will emerge a stronger and more solid department as a result. I offer a sincere thank you, for the support and commitment to assisting our team with such a significant step in our development.
